The Philippines Participates in The New York Times Travel Show 2019

NEW YORK, 23 January 2019 – The Philippines will be participating in The New York Times (NYT) Travel Show to be held from 25 to 27 January 2019 at the Javits Convention Center in New York.

The NYT Travel Show is North America's largest travel show and trade conference that aims at promoting the tourism industries worldwide, attracting over 30,000 visitors and more than 600 exhibitors.

The Philippine Booth will be located at Booth #177.

The Philippine Consulate General and the Philippine Department of Tourism New York Office are inviting the Filipino-American community and their friends to visit the Philippine booth.
