NEW YORK, 6 September 2018 – Officials of the Albright Stonebridge Group (ASG) paid a courtesy call on Consul General Claro S. Cristobal at the Philippine Consulate General offices in Manhattan, New York last 5 September.

ASG Vice President for East Asia and the Pacific Meredith Miller, a former official of the US Department of State, introduced their organization to the Consul General.

Albright Stonebridge Group (ASG) is a global business strategy firm. The firm advises multinationals, financial institutions, industry associations, and non-profit organizations on a variety of matters including international government relations, market entry and risk assessment, regulatory affairs, stakeholder engagement, partner development, and shared value programs. ASG is chaired by former U.S. Secretary of State Madeleine Albright and its consultants and officials are mostly former US ambassadors and ministers.

Consul General Cristobal shared updates on the developments in the Philippine economy and sought the assistance of ASG in endorsing their clients for investment opportunities to fill gaps in public works, telecommunications, energy, and utilities industries in the Philippines.

Ms Miller expressed that she looks forward to connecting their network to the Philippine government through the Consulate and the Philippine Embassy in Washington, DC. She was accompanied in the meeting by her Filipino Associate, Mr Rafael Ignacio. END
